Re: Instructions: If I am abducted by a terror organization

Dear Sir,

Wholesale release of terrorists has led in the past to new waves of terror and encouraged additional abductions

According to figures released by the defense establishment, approximately 80% of the released terrorists perpetrate additional acts of terror and murder after their release. In other words, in exchange for the release of abducted Israelis we are condemning an unknown number of other Israelis to death and encouraging more and more abductions.

Our nation's natural feelings of compassion and solidarity have become a powerful weapon in the hands of our enemies and places Israel's leaders in a no-win situation. Due to the difficult situation that Israel's government faces when dealing with an abducted Israeli and due to the fact that I do not want to be a weapon against Israel in the hands of terrorists, I hereby instruct you as follows: If I am G-d forbid abducted by a terror organization, do not release any terrorists to obtain my release. You may mercilessly attack the terrorists and apply powerful military and economic pressure to secure my release. But do not surrender to their demands and do not release terrorists in my stead. This instruction does not apply if I am captured in a war between Israel and a sovereign state, but strictly to terror organizations.

Respectfully,
